I have read the "settlement", it will not stop Microsoft, I, a "dumb consumer" can tell that. Greed is at the heart of this, and having seen the "corruption" in this government in the past I cannot help but believe that down inside this settlement there is an exchange of money. Time will reveal all.

Microsoft will find a way around almost if not every provision and will continue to behave in exactly the same manner as before. They have been very successful with their current pattern and will not change it unless forced. Leopards can't change their spots. And this agreement allows Microsoft to basically decide for itself what to change and who will oversee and enforce the changes. The crooked judge letting off the crooked company for a fee.

This a wonderful example of why this government is doomed to failure. Greed has led to corruption at the highest levels. Everyone knows it, nobody in government is doing anything really about it, just pocketing the money and giving it lip service.

And you wonder why people don't have any confidence in it.

Just look at it's fruits....
